

JUST THE MENTION OF YOUR NAME

By: Mel Gibson

Written by: M. Rossi, L. W. Clark

A crowded room, filled with laughter and fun
A hundred conversations blend into one
But then a sound grabs my attention
How could one word ring so clear
And all that idle small talk disappears

Just the mention of your name
And I swear I feel my heart
Racin' wildly here inside me
Till in my mind I start to frame this
Picture of your face, painted by God's hand
And I know that I'll never be the same
All it takes is just the mention of your name....

No poetry, no music I've ever heard
Can get to me quite the same as one simple word
I heard a voice from out of nowhere
Whisper it just now
And I realized it was me thinkin' out loud

Just the mention of your name
And I swear I feel my heart
Racin' wildly here inside me
Till in my mind I start to frame this
Picture of your face, painted by God's hand
And I know that I'll never be the same
All it takes is just the mention of your name....

And I know that I'll never be the same
All it takes is just the mention of your name....
...Just the mention of your name
